2014-2015
@NSCDS

Each fall, the senior editors of The Mirror choose a theme that connects with the student body experience. The 2014-2015 yearbook staff decided to feature a theme that echoes how young people today often communicate with each other and hold on to their memories — through social media and technology. It begins on the cover with the artwork of senior Valerie Jaharis, who created binary code that numerically translates into our school name, book title and the academic year.

She also illustrated our connectedness through a Wi-Fi network signal. Popular sites such as Pinterest, Snapchat, Facebook and Instagram are a few of the templates you will recognize. And of course, there are selfies!

We hope you enjoy our take on the digital age!

#TheDedication

The landscape of social media connects people around the world in ways never before possible. For those of us here at North Shore Country Day School, it provides almost limitless possibilities to embrace our motto: Live and Serve. Our school community is no longer confined to Chicago's North Shore; technology allows us to connect to the world. The 2014-15 editorial staff dedicates this edition of The Mirror to someone who not only embodies our mission but also someone who represents the #energy and #optimism of the digital age.

Since 1997, this person has played an integral role in the life of our school. Never one to sit on the sidelines, she is not afraid to take on a variety of different responsibilities. If it makes our school a better place, she is all in! She is not only an excellent French teacher, she is the faculty advisor to PILLOWS and serves as the Assistant Head of the Upper School. Her #WeeklyDigest has become required reading for Upper School students and faculty alike and she is an active participant in every major school function, from Homecoming to the faculty-student basketball game. For the past 18 years, her energy, enthusiasm, and infectious #laugh have made a positive impact on the lives of countless Raiders.

For these reasons, we are very proud to dedicate the 2014-15 Mirror to Lynsey Wollin-Casey.

JackHunt I will always remember the generosity and the kindness of the OTR members and how open-minded they were. They let us see a glimpse of their everyday life and how hospitable they were.

MasonRoberts-Jones I really liked meeting Jim and asking him questions. I also enjoyed seeing his apartment and seeing how he lives his life.

LexiJackson The experience was very eye opening and inspiring because I was able to see Chris overcome challenges and live his everyday life from a wheelchair.

LilyKlaskin I really liked going to Over The Rainbow to work on a 3D printing project. It was interesting to see what they needed and we learned a lot from them.

BugMeiners My favorite part of going to OTR was meeting my wonderful partner Lisa, who is kind and cheerful. Nothing was more fun than actually interacting with her and improving her independent life-style. She taught us to help and meet new friends.

AnnaRistic I loved having this experience with such nice people.

IsabellaCarlino I thought this experience was really exciting and it helped me understand a lot about people with disabilities.

Outdoor Ed was so much fun! We got to canoe, hang out with friends and we even did a high ropes course! It was awesome. This was a great way to start the school year. My favorite things about this experience were sleeping in tents under the stars and getting to know my classmates better. I wish school was like this everyday! #MS_Service

This year the Middle School participated in several different service projects. In the winter, during service week, some of us painted murals, while others worked in the cafeteria and at "A Just Harvest" soup kitchen in Rogers Park! One of the most fun service activities this year was making blankets for Project Linus! It was so rewarding to spend our time serving others with our classmates! We are all looking forward to doing even more next year!

Putting together The Mirror is not for the faint at heart. From our initial brainstorming sessions in September to the frantic final days of production in May, this year's editorial team has put in the requisite time and effort to create a yearbook worthy of The Mirror's 95 year tradition. Tonya, Jake, Kate and Gus: thanks for all of your hard work. You did an excellent job!

See you on Facebook!
